Anna M. Juliano is an associate in Frier Levitt's Healthcare Transactional Department. She works with healthcare providers and other industry clients on transactional and regulatory matters, helping clients navigate deals from initial planning through post-closing integration while ensuring transaction structures meet both business goals and regulatory requirements.

Prior to joining Frier Levitt, Anna served as a law clerk to the Honorable Katie A. Gummer, J.S.C., in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey, where she drafted bench memoranda and assisted in the research, analysis, and preparation of appellate opinions and orders in civil and criminal matters. She previously worked as a summer associate at Cohen Seglias Pallas Greenhall & Furman, where she researched construction contract disputes, negligence claims, and regulatory compliance matters, and as a legal intern in the Office of the General Counsel at NJ Transit, researching and drafting memoranda on corporate, employment, and real estate matters. Anna also gained litigation experience through judicial internships in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey and with the New Jersey Office of the Attorney General, Division of Law and Public Safety.

Anna earned her J.D. from Seton Hall University School of Law, where she served as an Associate Editor of the Seton Hall Law Review and as a Board Member and Teaching Assistant for the Appellate Advocacy Moot Court Board. She also participated in the Civil Litigation and Practice Clinic's Housing Justice Project and received the award for Best Brief for Appellee in Appellate Advocacy. Anna received her Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, in Criminal Justice and Psychology, with a minor in Political Science, from the University of Delaware, where she was named to the Dean's List every semester.
