Mysty Blagg is a Senior Associate in Frier Levitt's Regulatory Department, where she advises healthcare providers and emerging healthcare businesses on complex regulatory, compliance, and transactional matters. Her practice includes corporate practice of medicine, fraud and abuse, value-based arrangements, and MSO formation, as well as payor audit appeals and licensing matters before state boards.

Prior to joining Frier Levitt, Mysty practiced healthcare law, advising long-term care, behavioral health, digital health, and provider startup clients. She brings a unique, hands-on perspective to her work. Before law school, she spent nearly a decade in Medicaid compliance and appeals, investigating provider complaints and overpayments, and she practiced as a registered dental hygienist for more than ten years.

Mysty is a frequent author and speaker on healthcare regulatory topics and is active in the American Health Law Association and the American Bar Association Health Law Section, where she has chaired the Post Acute Task Force. She earned her J.D., magna cum laude, from Campbell University School of Law, where she served as Submissions Editor of the Campbell Law Review.
