

Cannabidiol (CBD) and Cannabis-Derived Products Legal Services

The cannabidiol (CBD) and cannabis-derived product market has seen tremendous growth recently. As federal and state government agencies, including the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), continue to shape guidance and regulation regarding CBD and cannabis-derived products, it is imperative for physicians, pharmacies, manufacturers, distributors, extractors and other CBD and cannabis-derived product-related businesses to have a deep understanding of the evolving legal landscape in order to stay compliant and avoid any potential legal pitfalls.

With extensive experience in the Pharmacy and Life Sciences sectors, Frier Levitt provides services to every level of the CBD and cannabis-derived product supply and distribution chains, including:

- Counseling regarding state and federal laws and regulations related to CBD and hemp
- Monitoring of developments and changes in federal and state CBD and hemp laws
- Development of business and compliance strategies
- Representation of physician practices who dispense CBD
- Representation of pharmacies who dispense CBD
- Representation of CBD extractors and distributors
- Counsel regarding advertising, promotion and labeling issues for CBD products

Frier Levitt routinely guides pharmaceutical manufacturers, wholesalers, outsourcing facilities, healthcare providers, and pharmacies of all types through the regulatory maze of federal and state laws and regulations, in addition to USDA, FTC, and DEA rules and regulations; state laws; state Pharmacy Practice Acts; and state controlled substances laws and regulations. Our attorneys have experience in representing clients before a variety of federal and state agencies, including the Department of Justice, the FDA, the FTC, and various state professional Boards.
